

Plaridel

A Philippine Journal of Communication, Media, and Society

February 2015 • Volume 12 • Number 1

Politics in Mainstream, Underground, and New Media

Issue Editor: Patrick F. Campos

i A Note from the Editor

Patrick F. Campos

Articles

1 The Making of the Philippine President:

A Textual Analysis of Mythical
Archetypes in the TV News Reports of the 2010 Presidential Elections

Severino R. Sarmenta Jr.

24 Revisiting the 'Aquino Magic': Extending Neoliberal Interests and Foreshadowing
Communicative Capitalism in the Philippines

Mae Urtal Caralde

42 The Embodiment of the New Woman:
Advertisements' Mobilization of Women's Bodies Through Co-Optation of Feminist Ideologies

Julienne Thesa Baldo-Cubelo

66 People's War, People's Press: History and Evolution of Ang Bayan (The People), the News Organ of the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP)

Lucia Palpal-latoc Tangi

97 Reactivating Filipino Youth Activism in the Age of Slacktivism

Gerry Lanuza

123 Spectres of New Media Technologies in the Public Sphere

Ma. Diosa Labiste

141 In Other News: Negotiating a Shifting Notion of Newsworthiness Through Amateur Web Video

Daphne-Tatiana PT Canlas

158 Internet Literacy: Levels of Literacy Among Selected Filipinos Across Economic Classes

Lourdes M. Portus

180 Media Assessment of Herbalife's Crisis Response: An Approach to Explain Vietnam's Media Transparency Level

Tuong-Minh Ly-Le

195 Striking Balance: Freedom of Expression in Post-Soeharto Indonesia

A'an Suryana

215 The Philippines as an International Transit Site for North Korean Refugees

Christopher J. Dawe

Reviews

233 Representations and Discourses in Internet Comedy

Jose Gutierrez III

241 Animation and Realism: A Review of RPG Metanoia (2010)

Jose Gutierrez III